PLAYED GEORGETOWN YESTERDAY

ST. LOUIS LOST
BOTH CONTESTS
TO NATIONALSFine Rally at Close Won Second Game for Stahlers.

SIX LOCALS CROSSED PAN

In First Townsend Had Things His Own Way
and Won Easily.Nationals, 5; St. Louis, 2.
Nationals, 10; St. Louis, 9.

The distinct feature of yesterday afternoon's double-header was the whirlwind finish of Stahl's men in the last inning of the second game. The Nationals have piled up a greater number of scores in one inning than they did in the "lucky seventh" yesterday, but they have seldom come at a time when they were more needed.

Jack Townsend's pitching easily disposed of the Browns in the first game, but nobody expected the Nationals to win that second contest after the loose first inning. Falkenberg passed three men and allowed as many hits in the opening session. Three steals and the "squeeze play" were added to them, and before the smoke had cleared away nine Browns had been to the bat, five of whom scored. In the fourth his poor pitching allowed two more runs, and in the sixth another brace of tallies brought the total up to nine.

Batted Howell.

In the meantime the Nationals had pegged away until they had four scores to their credit. It was getting dark when Jones walked to the plate in the seventh, and another inning could not have been played. Charlie started things with a clean drive to center, and before the Browns retired the side twelve men had faced Howell and six had made the circuit.

It was one of the finest rallies of the season. Jones accomplished the rare feat of making two safe hits in one inning. Stahl and "Punch" Knoll were also heroes in this round. Jack's swat right scored two men, and the little catcher planted a single into center which produced two more runs and tied the score.

The first game was a pitchers' battle between Townsend and Sudhoff, and Jack had much the better of it. But for a little unsteadiness in the seventh and eighth innings he would have had a shut-out.

Clever Fielding.

Cassidy did some clever work at shortstop, accepting sixteen out of seventeen chances. Bobby Wallace was also in the game with several difficult plays. Both Jake Stahl and Tom Jones made frequent plays at first base which won applause. Jones made one splendid play in the second when he got Gleason's throw on Nill's grounder right under the feet of the runner.

There was nothing doing for either side until the fourth inning. For three innings not a hit was made off either pitcher. Charlie Jones lined out a single to center in the fourth, but was caught at second when he tried to reach that station on Koehler's fumble. Cassidy hammered one over second, and moved up a notch on Sudhoff's wild pitch. Hickman hit for two bases, scoring Cassidy. Huelman sent up a foul fly which Gleason took care of, but Stahl smashed a triple to right field fence, and "Cheerful Charlie" registered. Nill drew a pass and Stanley singled to left. Stone let the ball through him and Caldwell traveled around to third. Stone's throw to Wallace was bad and Nill scored.

One more tally was garnered in the seventh. Nill singled, and was advanced by Stanley's neat sacrifice. Heyden singled into right and Nill crossed the plate.

The Browns made one in the seventh. Frisk, the first man up, was hit by one Townsend and ambled to first. After Wallace had sent up a fly to Cassidy and Jones fled out to Stanley. Townsend hit Gleason. Koehler laced one to left and Frisk scored.

Sudhoff reached first base in the eighth by striking at a wild pitch when he had two strikes and one ball. Stone singled, but was forced by Rockenfied, Cassidy to Hickman. Sudhoff scored when Frisk lined out to left.

FAVORITES SWEEP
THE STAKE EVENTS

Cairngorm, Big Ben, and Hylas All Got the Money---O'Neill Does Some Clever Riding.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The three stakes run on the Brighton Beach track this afternoon one and all resulted in the victories of the favorites.

Cairngorm was the favorite at 9 to 20 for the Brighton Cup.

Neither O'Neill nor Burns seemed eager to let their horses race until they had reached the back stretch on the final round. Then they commenced to travel in earnest, and it was at once evident that Cairngorm had matters his own way. He led by a length and Burns was driving Caughnawaga to keep up with him. There was virtually no race to it after the stretch had been reached, and Cairngorm won easily by five lengths, though O'Neill took the precaution of keeping him going.

Won by Hylas.

The Chantilly Steeplechase Handicap was won by Thomas Hitchcock, Jr.'s Hylas, an odds-on favorite at 7 to 1. He made a bad blunder at the paddock fence, but had the race in hand half a mile from home. Dick Roberts, who had made the running, was the nearest next and was beaten by a length.

The striking feature in connection with the Mercury Handicap was that the price against the favorite, Big Ben, went up for some unknown reason from 7 to 5 to 11 to 2. He waited upon Diamond and Handzarra until the stretch had been reached then came away from them very easily and won by a length. The winning jockeys were Martin, O'Neill (three races) Noller and Louis Smith. Ray won the steeplechase.

BALTIMORE CRICKETERS DOWN WASHINGTON TEAM

The Baltimore County Club yesterday defeated the Washington Cricket Club in the final game of the season for each club.

The visiting team has met unvarying success this year, not having met with a single defeat, and having overcome eleven from the strong Merion, Belmont, and Philadelphia clubs.

The local club, too, considering its recent organization, has had a very satisfactory season, with a record of four victories and six defeats.

The game yesterday appeared to be well in hand for Washingtonians who had taken eight of their opponents' wickets for nineteen runs, but Mal-linckrodt and Cole put the game out for the County Club, piling up fifty-seven runs between them before Cole was dismissed.

MUTES DEFEATED IN FIRST BATTLE

By Scoring Two Touchdowns in First Half
Georgetown Trimmed Mutes' Eleven.
Heat Affected the Playing.

The local collegiate football season was opened yesterday afternoon at Georgetown field when Georgetown downed Gallaudet by 10 to 0.

The heat, making it uncomfortable for spectators, made good football playing out of the question, and after the first half the players of both teams were unable to keep up the fast work.

Georgetown placed on the field the lightest team that has represented the university in a decade and previous to the game there was considerable uneasiness on the Heights less the Blue and Gray be defeated by her rivals from Kendall Green.

But seven minutes after the referee's whistle started the contest Monahan crossed the goal line with the Blue and Gray's first score, and four minutes later Bocock scored the second and last touchdown.

In the second half Georgetown had three opportunities of rushing the ball across the last chalk line, but each time an execrable fumble ruined the chance.

Bocock a Star.

Bocock at quarterback for Georgetown, was the star of the contest. On every rush he was with his runner helping him to gain after he had been tackled and on the defense he caught the brunt of the Mutes' attack when it broke through the slow-charging variety of the forwards.

Gallaudet had a bad attack of fumbling, and several times when the Mutes were gaining steadily they muffed the ball, which usually bounced into the arms of a Georgetown man.

Reinhard and Russell, the two Gallaudet ends, played good football, and several times threw back the heavy Georgetown tackle plays, dodging the backs who were supposed to block them.

Kendall Green Kicks Off.

The Kendall Green lads kicked off. Georgetown got the ball and by a series of plunges and hammering rushed its way down the field, battering first one side of the line and then the other. Gallaudet kept the Georgetown men guessing. Repeatedly when the tackle formation which Reilly is using was signaled for the extra man would come over to the side where the play was going through and stop it.

Georgetown did not do much with the ends, for Reinhard and Russell could not be stopped. Just seven minutes after the whistle was blown Georgetown, with Ed Monahan carrying the ball, had made its first touchdown of 1905. Lux failed to kick goal.

As the game progressed it was apparent that the team holding the ball was able to make the distance, both teams being weak on the defensive. The dummies bunched on tackle time and time again and got away with good distances.

Holds for Downs.

For four downs Georgetown held and then McCandless was forced to kick. Bocock receiving the ball. With superb interference by Lux, who struck one tackler off with terrific force, the blonde quarterback after a run of about sixty yards, was downed.

Here the Blue and Gray resorted to hammer and tongs warfare again, and Lux was, four minutes after the first touchdown, sent over for the second. McCandless and Monahan were constantly being used for tackle plunges, but Monahan made greater gains, for McGowan put his man out of the way. On Monahan's side of the line the Gallaudet men got under the play and the gains were smaller.

Brennan Makes Twenty Yards.

In the second half Gallaudet kicked off, and Brennan came back twenty yards before he was downed. Here an off-side play, which was not allowed, caused a fumble.

The backs were very slow in starting, and before they did get going the Blue had crumbled.

A good hike, the first real good one of the season.

the game, netted the Georgetown team ten yards. Monahan followed for two and a half more. The Gallaudet end
